Show and Tell a Success By Jessica Travers

On January 25th, members of the Chester County Sports Hall of Fame gathered at the Winners Circle in Exton for the first "Show and Tell." Members were invited to bring some of their favorite sports memorabilia to show off to the group. Nick Cacchione was gracious enough to provide a private room, pizza and snacks for the event. Members including, Jim Weeks, Donte Renzulli, Jerry Schneider, Shawn Carter, Julian McCracken, Ralph Watson, Howie Bedell, Jimmy Jeffries, Dick Yoder, Tom McIntyre, Bob Sheller, Tom Travers and many more, proudly presented a wide range of sports collectibles and memorabilia. Some highlights included a one dollar World Series ticket, a West Chester Walloper bat and an Eddie Mathews Hartland statue. CCSHOF Inductee, Howie Bedell, showed off his World Series Rings from the 1986 Kansas City Royals and 1991 Cincinnati Reds as well as several autographed baseballs. The youngest member of the group, Nicky Cacchione, did a fantastic job presenting his favorite items including a foul ball hit by part 2 of Game 5 of the 2008 World Series.

Overall this was a successful event and the Hall of Fame encourages members to come out to the next Show and Tell.

Stay Tuned for the Hall of Fame Grand Opening with Jim Furyk!

President's Message:

As we enter our third year, The Chester County Sports Hall of Fame is already recognized as a premiere organization. Our exhibit at the Winner's Circle is getting lots of visitors and our web site is growing in popularity.

The 2010 membership drive is underway and nomination forms will be in the mail/e-mail very soon. As a member you can nominate and vote for the next inductees.

Thanks to all of you for your interest and support.

Jerry Schneider

Nominations and Ballots

At our February meeting the nomination and ballot process was discussed. The purpose was to determine whether any improvements to the process could be made. Charlie DiMarco, who has been building a database of potential names, kicked off the commentary. Julian McCracken and Tom Walsh each presented papers with discussion points. In addition, those in attendance added many key comments. The process is still under review.
